This Convention does not apply to the activity of creation, recording or reconciliation of securities conducted by central securities depositories or other persons vis-à-vis the issuer of those securities.

Principles of interpretation

In the implementation, interpretation and application of this Convention, regard is to be had to its purposes, to the general principles on which it is based, to its international character and to the need to promote uniformity and predictability in its application.

CHAPTER II – RIGHTS OF THE ACCOUNT HOLDER

Article 7
Intermediated securities

1. The credit of securities to a securities account confers on the account holder:
  - (a) the right to receive and exercise the rights attached to the securities, including in particular dividends, other distributions and voting rights:
    - (i) where the account holder is not an intermediary or is an intermediary acting for its own account; and,
    - (ii) in any other case, if provided by the non-Convention law;
  - (b) the right, by instructions to the relevant intermediary, to effect a disposition under Article 9 or grant an interest under Article 10;
  - (c) the right, by instructions to the relevant intermediary, to cause the securities to be held otherwise than through a securities account, to the extent permitted by the law under which the securities are constituted, the terms of the securities, the non-Convention law and, to the extent permitted by the non-Convention law, the account agreement or the uniform rules of a securities settlement system;
  - (d) unless otherwise provided in this Convention, such other rights, including rights and interests in securities, as may be conferred by the non-Convention law.

2. Unless otherwise provided in this Convention:
  - (a) the rights referred to in paragraph 1 are effective against third parties;
  - (b) the rights referred to in paragraph 1(a) may be exercised against the relevant intermediary or the issuer of the securities, or both, in accordance with this Convention, the terms of the securities and the law under which the securities are constituted;
  - (c) the rights referred to in paragraph 1(b) and 1(c) may be exercised only against the relevant intermediary.
3. Where an account holder has acquired a security interest, or a limited interest other than a security interest, by credit of securities to its securities account under Article 9(4), the non-Convention law determines any limits on the rights described in paragraph 1 of this Article.

Article 8
Measures to enable account
holders to receive and exercise rights

1. An intermediary must take appropriate measures to enable its account holders to receive and exercise the rights specified in Article 7(1), but this obligation does not require the relevant intermediary to take any action that is not within its power or to establish a securities account with another intermediary.
2. This Chapter does not affect any right of the account holder against the issuer of the securities.

CHAPTER III – TRANSFER OF INTERMEDIATED SECURITIES

Article 9
Acquisition and disposition by debit and credit

1. Subject to Article 13, intermediated securities are acquired by an account holder by the credit of securities to that account holder's securities account.
2. No further step is necessary, or may be required by the non-Convention law, to render the acquisition of intermediated securities effective against third parties.
3. Subject to Article 13, intermediated securities are disposed of by an account holder by the debit of securities to that account holder's securities account.
4. A security interest, or a limited interest other than a security interest, in intermediated securities may be acquired and disposed of by debit and credit of securities to securities accounts under this Article.
5. Nothing in this Convention limits the effectiveness of debits and credits to securities accounts which are effected on a net basis in respect of securities of the same description.

Article 10Grant of interests in intermediated securities by other methods

1. An account holder grants an interest in intermediated securities, including a security interest or a limited interest other than a security interest, to another person so as to be effective against third parties if:
  - (a) the account holder enters into an agreement with or in favour of that person; and
  - (b) one of the conditions specified in paragraph 2 applies and the relevant Contracting State has made a declaration in respect of that condition under paragraph 4, and no further step is necessary, or may be required by the non-Convention law, to render the interest effective against third parties.
2. The conditions referred to in paragraph 1(b) are as follows:
  - (a) that the person to whom the interest is granted is the relevant intermediary;
  - (b) that a designating entry in favour of that person has been made;
  - (c) that a control agreement in favour of that person applies.
3. An interest in intermediated securities may be granted under this Article so as to be effective against third parties:
  - (a) in respect of a securities account (and such an interest extends to all intermediated securities from time to time standing to the credit of the relevant securities account);
  - (b) in respect of a specified category, quantity, proportion or value of the intermediated securities from time to time standing to the credit of a securities account.
4. A Contracting State may declare that under its law:
  - (a) the condition specified in any one or more of sub-paragraphs (a) to (c) of paragraph 2 is sufficient to render an interest effective against third parties;
  - (b) this Article shall not apply in relation to interests in intermediated securities granted by or to parties falling within such categories as may be specified in the declaration;
  - (c) paragraph 3, or either sub-paragraph of paragraph 3, does not apply;
  - (d) paragraph 3(b) applies with such modifications as may be specified in the declaration.
5. A declaration in respect of paragraph 2(b) shall specify whether a designating entry has the effect described in Article 1(l)(i) or Article 1(l)(ii) or both.
6. A declaration in respect of paragraph 2(c) shall specify whether a control agreement must include the provision described in Article 1(k)(i) or Article 1(k)(ii) or both.
7. The non-Convention law determines in what circumstances a non-consensual security interest in intermediated securities may arise and become effective against third parties.

Article 11
Other methods under non-Convention law

This Convention does not preclude any method provided by the non-Convention law:

- (a) for the acquisition or disposition of intermediated securities or of an interest in intermediated securities;
  - (b) for the creation of an interest in intermediated securities and for making such an interest effective against third parties,
- other than the methods provided by Articles 9 and 10.

Article 12
Evidential requirements

The non-Convention law determines the evidential requirements in respect of the matters referred to in Articles 9 and 10.

Article 13
Invalidity and reversal

1. A debit of securities to a securities account or a designating entry is invalid if the relevant intermediary is not authorised to make that debit or designating entry:

- (a) by the account holder and, in the case of a debit or designating entry that relates to intermediated securities which are subject to an interest granted under Article 10, by the person to whom that interest is granted; or
- (b) by the non-Convention law.

2. Subject to Article[s] 14 [and 15], the non-Convention law and, to the extent permitted by the non-Convention law, an account agreement or the uniform rules of a securities settlement system determine:

- (a) subject to paragraph 1(a), the validity of a debit, credit or designating entry;
- (b) whether a debit, credit or designating entry is liable to be reversed;
- (c) where a debit, credit or designating entry is liable to be reversed, its effect (if any) against third parties and the consequences of reversal;
- (d) whether and in what circumstances a debit, credit or designating entry may be made subject to a condition; and
- (e) where a debit, credit or designating entry is made subject to a condition, its effect (if any) against third parties before the condition is fulfilled and the consequences of the fulfilment or non-fulfilment of the condition.

Article 14

Acquisition by an innocent person of intermediated securities

1. Where securities are credited to the securities account of an account holder at a time when the account holder does not know that another person has an interest in securities or intermediated securities and that the credit violates the rights of that other person with respect to that interest:

(a) the account holder is not subject to the interest of that other person;

(b) the account holder is not liable to that other person; and

(c) the credit is not invalid or liable to be reversed on the ground that the interest or rights of that other person invalidate any previous debit or credit made to another securities account.

2. Where securities are credited to the securities account of an account holder, or an interest becomes effective against third parties under Article 10, at a time when the account holder or the person to whom the interest is granted does not know of an earlier defective entry:

(a) the credit or interest is not rendered invalid, ineffective against third parties or liable to be reversed as a result of that defective entry; and

(b) the account holder, or the person to whom the interest is granted, is not liable to anyone who would benefit from the invalidity or reversal of that defective entry.

3. Paragraphs 1 and 2 do not apply in respect of an acquisition of securities, other than the grant of a security interest, made by way of gift or otherwise gratuitously.

4. For the purposes of this Article:

(a) “defective entry” means a credit of securities or designating entry which is invalid or liable to be reversed, including a conditional credit or designating entry which becomes invalid or liable to be reversed by reason of the operation or non-fulfilment of the condition [ ;

(b) a person knows of an interest or fact if that person:

(i) has actual knowledge of the interest or fact; or

(ii) has knowledge of facts sufficient to indicate that there is a significant probability that the interest or fact exists and deliberately avoids information that would establish that this is the case; and

(c) when the person referred to in sub-paragraph \(b\) is an organisation, it knows of an interest or fact from the time when the interest or fact is or ought reasonably to have been brought to the attention of the individual responsible for the matter to which the interest or fact is relevant ].

5. To the extent permitted by the non-Convention law, paragraph 2 is subject to any provision of the uniform rules of a securities settlement system or of the account agreement.

Article 15

Priority among competing interests

1. This Article determines priority between interests in the same intermediated securities which become effective against third parties under Article 10 or Article 11.

2. Subject to paragraph 5 and Article 16, interests that become effective against third parties under Article 10 have priority over any interest that becomes effective against third parties by any other method provided by the non-Convention law.

3. Interests that become effective against third parties under Article 10 rank among themselves according to the time of occurrence of the following events:

(a) if the relevant intermediary is itself the holder of the interest, when the agreement granting the interest is entered into;

(b) when a designating entry is made;

(c) when a control agreement is entered into, or, if applicable, a notice is given to the relevant intermediary.

4. Where an intermediary has an interest that has become effective against third parties under Article 10 and makes a designation or enters into a control agreement with the consequence that an interest of another person becomes effective against third parties, the interest of that other person has priority over the interest of the intermediary unless that other person and the intermediary expressly agree otherwise.

5. A non-consensual security interest in intermediated securities arising or recognised under any provision of the non-Convention law has such priority as is afforded to it by that law.

6. As between persons entitled to any interests referred to in paragraphs 2, 3 and 4 and, to the extent permitted by the non-Convention law, paragraph 5, the priorities provided by this Article may be varied by agreement between those persons, but any such agreement does not affect third parties.

Article 16

Priority of interests granted by an intermediary

1. Except as provided by paragraph 2, this Convention does not determine the priority or the relative rights and interests between the rights of account holders of an intermediary and interests granted by that intermediary so as to be effective against third parties under Article 10.

2. An interest in intermediated securities granted by an intermediary so as to become effective against third parties under Article 10 has priority over the rights of account holders of that intermediary if at the time the interest becomes so effective [the test in Article 14 is satisfied].

CHAPTER IV – INTEGRITY OF THE INTERMEDIATED HOLDING SYSTEM

Article 17

Effectiveness of rights in insolvency proceedings

1. The rights of an account holder under Article 7(1), and an interest that has become effective against third parties under Article 10, are effective against the insolvency administrator and creditors in any insolvency proceeding in respect of the relevant intermediary or in respect of any other person responsible for the performance of a function of the relevant intermediary under Article 5.

2. Nothing in this Convention impairs the effectiveness of an interest in intermediated securities against the insolvency administrator and creditors in any insolvency proceeding where that interest is effective under the non-Convention law.

Article 18
Effects of insolvency

Subject to Article 24 and Article 33, nothing in this Convention affects:

- (a) any rules of law applicable in insolvency proceedings relating to the avoidance of a transaction as a preference or a transfer in fraud of creditors; or
- (b) any rules of procedure relating to the enforcement of rights to property which is under the control or supervision of an insolvency administrator.

Article 19
Prohibition of upper-tier attachment

1. Subject to paragraph 3, no attachment of intermediated securities of an account holder shall be made against, or so as to affect:

- (a) a securities account of any person other than that account holder;
- (b) the issuer of any securities credited to a securities account of that account holder; or
- (c) a person other than the account holder and the relevant intermediary.

2. In this Article "attachment of intermediated securities of an account holder" means any judicial, administrative or other act or process to freeze, restrict or impound intermediated securities of that account holder in order to enforce or satisfy a judgment, award or other judicial, arbitral, administrative or other decision against or in respect of that account holder or in order to ensure the availability of such intermediated securities to enforce or satisfy any future such judgment, award or decision.

3. A Contracting State may declare that under its non-Convention law an attachment of intermediated securities of an account holder made against or so as to affect a person other than the relevant intermediary has effect also against the relevant intermediary. Any such declaration shall identify that other person by name or description and shall specify the time at which such an attachment becomes effective against the relevant intermediary.

Article 20
Instructions to the intermediary

1. An intermediary is neither bound nor entitled to give effect to any instructions with respect to intermediated securities of an account holder given by any person other than that account holder.

2. Paragraph 1 is subject to:

- (a) the provisions of the account agreement, any other agreement between the intermediary and the account holder or any other agreement entered into by the intermediary with the consent of the account holder;
- (b) the rights of any person (including the intermediary) who holds an interest that has become effective against third parties under Article 10;
- (c) subject to Article 19, any judgment, award, order or decision of a court, tribunal or other judicial or administrative authority of competent jurisdiction;
- (d) any applicable provision of the non-Convention law; and
- (e) where the intermediary is the operator of a securities settlement system, the uniform rules of that system.

Article 21Holding or availability of sufficient securities

1. An intermediary must, for each description of securities, hold or have available for the benefit of its account holders other than itself securities and intermediated securities of an aggregate number or amount equal to the aggregate number or amount of securities of that description credited to securities accounts which it maintains for such account holders.
2. An intermediary may comply with paragraph 1:
  - (a) by procuring that securities are held on the register of the issuer in the name, or for the account, of its account holders;
  - (b) by holding securities as the registered holder on the register of the issuer;
  - (c) by possession of certificates or other documents of title;
  - (d) by holding intermediated securities with another intermediary; or
  - (e) by any other appropriate method.
3. If at any time the requirements of paragraph 1 are not complied with, the intermediary must within the time provided by the non-Convention law take such action as is necessary to ensure compliance with those requirements.
4. This Article does not affect any provision of the non-Convention law, or, to the extent permitted by the non-Convention law, any provision of the uniform rules of a securities settlement system or of an account agreement, relating to the method of complying with the requirements of this Article or the allocation of the cost of ensuring compliance with those requirements or otherwise relating to the consequences of failure to comply with those requirements.

Article 22Allocation of securities to account holders' rights

1. Securities and intermediated securities of each description held by an intermediary as described in Article 21(2) shall be allocated to the rights of the account holders of that intermediary to the extent necessary to ensure compliance with Article 21(1).
2. Subject to Article 16, securities and intermediated securities allocated under paragraph 1 shall not form part of the property of the intermediary available for distribution among or realisation for the benefit of creditors of the intermediary.
3. The allocation required by paragraph 1 shall be effected by the non-Convention law and, to the extent required or permitted by the non-Convention law, by arrangements made by the relevant intermediary.
4. The arrangements referred to in paragraph 3 may include arrangements under which an intermediary holds securities and intermediated securities in segregated form:
  - (a) for the benefit of its account holders generally; or
  - (b) for the benefit of particular account holders or groups of account holders,in such manner as to ensure that such securities and intermediated securities are allocated in accordance with paragraph 1.

5. A Contracting State may declare that under its non-Convention law the allocation required by paragraph 1 applies only to securities and intermediated securities that are held by an intermediary in segregated form under arrangements such as are referred to in paragraph 4 and does not apply to securities and intermediated securities held by an intermediary for its own account.

Article 23

Loss sharing in case of insolvency of the intermediary

1. This article applies in any insolvency proceeding in respect of an intermediary unless otherwise provided by any conflicting rule applicable in that proceeding.

2. If the aggregate number or amount of securities and intermediated securities of any description allocated under Article 22 to an account holder, a group of account holders or the intermediary's account holders generally is less than the aggregate number or amount of securities of that description credited to the securities accounts of that account holder, that group of account holders or the intermediary's account holders generally (as the case may be), the shortfall shall be borne:

(a) where securities and intermediated securities have been allocated to a single account holder, by that account holder;

(b) in any other case, by the account holders to whom the relevant securities have been allocated, in proportion to the respective number or amount of securities of that description credited to their securities accounts.

3. To the extent permitted by the non-Convention law, where the intermediary is the operator of a securities settlement system and the uniform rules of the system make provision in case of a shortfall, the shortfall shall be borne in the manner so provided.

Article 24

~~Effect of debits, credits etc. and instructions on-~~insolvency of operator or participant in securities settlement system

1. To the extent permitted by the non-Convention law, the following provisions shall have effect notwithstanding the commencement of an insolvency proceeding in respect of the operator of the relevant system or any participant in the relevant system:

(a) any provision of the uniform rules of a securities settlement system or of a securities clearing system in so far as that provision precludes the revocation of any instruction given by a participant in the system for making a disposition of securities, or for making a payment relating to an acquisition or disposition of securities, after the time at which that instruction is treated under the rules of the system as having been entered irrevocably into the system;

(b) any provision of the uniform rules of a securities settlement system in so far as that provision precludes the invalidation or reversal of a debit or credit of securities to, or a designating entry in, a securities account which forms part of the system after the time at which that debit, credit or designating entry is treated as irrevocable under the rules of the system.

2. Paragraph 1 applies notwithstanding that any invalidation, reversal or revocation referred to in that paragraph would otherwise occur under any rule applicable in an insolvency proceeding.

Article 25
Obligations and liability of intermediaries

The obligations of an intermediary under this Convention and the extent of the liability of an intermediary in respect of those obligations are subject to any applicable provision of the non-Convention law and, to the extent permitted by the non-Convention law, the account agreement or the uniform rules of a securities settlement system. If the substance of an obligation of an intermediary under this Convention is the subject of any provision of the non-Convention law or, to the extent permitted by the non-Convention law, the account agreement or the uniform rules of a securities settlement system, compliance with that provision satisfies that obligation.

CHAPTER V – RELATIONSHIP WITH ISSUERS OF SECURITIES

Article 26
Position of issuers of securities

1. The law of a Contracting State shall permit the holding through intermediaries of securities that are permitted to be traded on an exchange or regulated market, and the effective exercise in accordance with Article 7 of the rights attached to such securities which are so held, but need not require that all such securities be issued on terms that permit them to be held through intermediaries.
2. In particular, the law of a Contracting State shall recognise the holding of such securities by a person acting in its own name on behalf of another person or other persons and shall permit such a person to exercise voting or other rights in different ways in respect of different parts of a holding of securities of the same description; but this Convention does not determine the conditions under which such a person is authorised to exercise such rights.
3. This Convention does not determine whom an issuer is required to recognise as the holder of securities.

Article 27
Set-off

1. As between an account holder who holds intermediated securities for its own account and the issuer of those securities, the fact that the account holder holds the securities through an intermediary or intermediaries shall not of itself, in any insolvency proceeding in respect of the issuer, preclude the existence or prevent the exercise of any rights of set-off which would have existed and been exercisable if the account holder had held the securities otherwise than through an intermediary.
2. This Article does not affect any express provision of the terms of issue of the securities.

CHAPTER VI – SPECIAL PROVISIONS WITH RESPECT TO COLLATERAL TRANSACTIONS

    - (i) by selling them and applying the net proceeds of sale in or towards the discharge of the relevant obligations; or
    - (ii) by appropriating the collateral securities as the collateral taker's own property and setting off their value against, or applying their value in or towards the discharge of, the relevant obligations, provided that the collateral agreement provides for realisation in this manner and specifies the basis on which collateral securities are to be valued for this purpose; or

Article 31Right to use collateral securities under security collateral agreement

1. If and to the extent that the terms of a security collateral agreement so provide, the collateral taker shall have the right to use and dispose of the collateral securities as if it were the owner of them (a "right of use").

Where a collateral taker exercises a right of use, it thereby incurs an obligation to replace the collateral securities originally transferred (the "original collateral securities") by transferring to the collateral provider, not later than the discharge of the relevant obligations, equivalent collateral or, where the security collateral agreement provides for the transfer of other assets [following the occurrence of any event relating to or affecting any securities provided as collateral], those other assets.

3. Securities transferred under paragraph 2 before the relevant obligations have been fully discharged:

(a) shall, in the same manner as the original collateral securities, be subject to a security interest under the relevant security collateral agreement, which shall be treated as having been created at the same time as the security interest in respect of the original collateral securities was created; and

(b) shall in all other respects be subject to the terms of the relevant security collateral agreement.

4. The exercise of a right of use shall not render invalid or unenforceable any right of the collateral taker under the relevant security collateral agreement.
