Research Scholarships Programme

The following five persons have been received under the programme, namely:

Ms Jana ARSIC (Bosnia-Herzegovina), Assistant at the Erasmus University of Rotterdam (Netherlands), who spent the month of May at the Institute under a joint grant from UNIDROIT and the Erasmus University. Both her presence at the first session of the UNIDROIT study group on franchising and the availability of the Institute’s extensive documentation on the subject assisted her research with a view to a doctoral thesis on franchising which she is currently preparing.

Mr Vaidotas VAICIUS, Assistant at the University of Vilnius and Consultant to the Government of Lithuania, who was the beneficiary of a two month scholarship (June and July) with UNIDROIT thanks to a grant from the Swedish Government. His research was concentrated on the 1980 United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods. The scholarship was also conceived within the framework of the co-operation between UNIDROIT and the Swiss Institute of Comparative Law in Lausanne where Mr Vaicius spent two months prior to his stay in Rome.

Mr Vincent ITOUA, Professor at the “Ecole Nationale d’Administration et de Magistrature”, Brazzaville (Congo), who was awarded a three month scholarship (September/October), funded by the Agence de Coopération Culturelle et Technique (ACCT), Paris. The document prepared by Mr Itoua at the end of his research period is entitled "Some reflections on security interests in mobile equipment in relation to the harmonisation of the business law of the African members of the Zone franc”.

Ms Malina Novkirishka Stoianova, Professor at the University of Sofia and Legal Adviser to the Prime Minister, who was accorded a scholarship for one month with funding from the French Government to conduct research in the field of bankruptcy law, in particular in connection with procedures for the consolidation of enterprises in financial difficulty, with a view to the preparation of draft legislation to supplement the bankruptcy law adopted in Bulgaria in August 1994.

Professor Juris Bojars, Director of the Latvian Institute of International Relations, who spent a period of study of two months (November/December), once again with funding from the Swedish Government, the principal purpose of which was the conducting of research with a view to the publication in Latvian of a treatise on private international law.

Research Scholarships Programme

Five scholars were received in 1993, most of whom prepared an article or report at the end of their stay with UNIDROIT:

Mr Michel Farag, Judge at the Court of Appeal of Alexandria (Egypt), whose research topic was "The award of compensation by courts in the light of changing economic and monetary conditions: practical comparative law aspects" (financed by the French Government); this scholarship was organised in co-operation with the International Development Law Institute (IDLI, Rome) during the period 7 December 1992 to 3 March 1993.

Mr Shang Ming, Official, Department of Treaties and Law, Ministry of Foreign Economic Relations and Trade, People’s Republic of China, worked in the context of the reform of the national law on investments, on “China’s legislation on foreign economic relations and trade and the principle of national treatment” (financed out of the general budget of UNIDROIT); this scholarship, which took place during the months of February, May and June, was organised in association with the Swiss Institute of Comparative Law (Lausanne) and with the International Trade Centre (UNCTAD/GATT) (Geneva).

Ms Anastasia Klimova, Official at the Department of Treaties and Law, Ministry of Foreign Trade, Russian Federation, researched the subject of “Cross-border leasing as a means of developing the economic infrastructure of countries engaged in the transition to a market economy and at the same time of opening new windows of opportunity for the activity of Italian leasing companies in such countries”; her scholarship was funded by the Italian Leasing Association (Assilea); economic operators (leasing companies), law professors and law firms in Italy provided the practical dimension essential to the programme from which Ms Klimova benefited during her three month stay at UNIDROIT (April to June).

Mr Evshingii IDESH, Official at the Department of Treaties and Law, Ministry of Trade and Industry, Ulan-Bator (Mongolia), received direct funding from UNDP to follow courses with the International Development Law Institute (IDLI, Rome); he spent a brief period (two weeks during the summer) with UNIDROIT of “supervised research” dedicated to an “Introduction to Western legal systems and to uniform private law”.

El Mokhtar BAKKOUR, Professor in the Faculty of Law at the University of Rabat (Morocco), conducted research for two and a half months with UNIDROIT (September to mid-November) on the theme of “Competences of intergovernmental organisations and uniform law instruments in maritime and air transport: perspectives for the updating of Moroccan law”. During his stay in Rome, Mr Bakkour was put in touch with a number of Italian legal circles and rendered a considerable service to the Secretariat by translating into Arabic the UNIDROIT Convention on International Financial Leasing and on International Factoring. Mr Bakkour’s scholarship was financed by the French Government with the generous assistance of Royal Air Maroc.

Collaborators, interns and researchers

The Institute received two interns in 1993, Ms Antoinette Nichols (United States of America) and Ms Nancy Scott (Canada), sponsored respectively by Golden Gate University, San Francisco and by the McGeorge School of Law, University of the Pacific, Sacramento. Both interns conducted valuable work on the companion volume to the Institute’s Digest of Legal Activities of International Organisations and other Institutions concerning past work, Ms Scott dealing with the activity of UNIDROIT and Ms Nichols with that of UNCITRAL and the Hague Conference on Private International Law.
