

McGill

cipp

FOOD
FOR LAW

18-22 Feb 2019

Food Revolutions and the Law of Food: Les enjeux locaux, nationaux et internationaux

18 février, 15h-17h, local 16, Faculté de droit de McGill, 3644 rue Peel
English and French speakers / Bar CLE credit 30$ (2 hrs); free for general public

Don Buckingham President and CEO, Canadian Agri-Food Policy Institute

Genevieve Parent Professeure titulaire, Faculté de droit, Université Laval; titulaire de la Chaire de recherche en droit sur la diversité et la sécurité alimentaires

Pierre-Emmanuel Moysé Director, Centre for Intellectual Property Policy, Associate Professor, McGill University, Faculty of Law

Food Futures Roundtable: Reconciling Security and Sovereignty

19 février, 11h-13h, local 16, Faculté de droit de McGill, 3644 rue Peel
Mainly English speakers / Bar CLE credit 30$ (2 hrs); free for general public; lunch served at 13h

Olivier de Schutter (video capsule) will introduce the theme, and speakers will then intervene on special topics in food security and sovereignty including climate change, labour concerns, protecting Indigenous traditional knowledge, and building sustainable food systems. Panel moderated by Nandini Ramanujam.

Contract Farming: Promoting Rural Development, Guaranteeing Fairness

20 février, 12h-14h, local 16, Faculté de droit de McGill, 3644 rue Peel
English and French speakers / Bar CLE credit 30$ (2 hrs); free for general public

In a multi-disciplinary panel, participants will discuss the relationship between contract farming and rural development, the benefits and risks of contract farming, the key legal and economic issues, and the scope of the Legal Guide on Contract Farming (2015). With intervenors from Trento University and UNIDROIT. Panel moderated by Richard Gold.

Putting a Mirror Up to the Smoke: A Colloquium on Cannabis Law

21 février, 13h-16h, local 312 NCDH, Faculté de droit de McGill, 3644 rue Peel
English and French speakers / Bar CLE credit 50$ (3 hrs); free for general public; lunch served at 13h
Seating is limited. RSVPs required: cipp1.law@mcgill.ca

Topics will include: the regulation around marketing and advertising of cannabis products; protecting innovations in the cannabis industry; the potential and the risks that legalization poses for First Nations, Inuit and Métis communities; and privacy concerns and other issues which may arise when consumers purchase cannabis products online. With specialist practitioners.

The Lallemand Experience: A Quebec Success Story

22 février, 14h30-16h30, local 16, Faculté de droit de McGill, 3644 rue Peel
English and French speakers / Bar CLE credit 30$ (2 hrs); free for general public; cocktail to follow

Founded in Montreal over a century ago, Lallemand is a world leader in the agri-food industries, working now in 40 countries across 5 continents. This event will explore Lallemand's expansion into the global food market. Experts, economists, and lawyers will discuss the challenges of international development, the uses and limits of intellectual property, technology transfer, the use of health claims, and the effects of regulatory frameworks on expanding markets for products such as supplements and probiotics.

 FFL all-access CLE pass: Bar credit for all events at Food for Law week $150 (11 hrs)